
Same stored parameter update; each mode measured against its own initial output