
Both observations precede the first optimizer operation on their own rollout batch; no endpoint averaging.